BRIEF INTRODUCTION

Pwani University is situated at Kilifi, a scenic resort town about 60 km north of Mombasa City on Mombasa-Malindi road. The University was established as a Constituent College of Kenyatta University on 23rd August 2007. The University has since grown over time and is now an independent and fully fledged University having been awarded a University Charter on 31st January 2013.

PURPOSE

The Government through the Public Procurement and Disposal Preference and Reservations (amendment) regulations 2013 has provided that 30% of all public procurement spent within a given financial year should be set aside for the youth, persons with disability and women. In an effort to address this affirmative action, Pwani University hereby outlines general information to prospective youth, persons with disabilities and women on how to access these procurement opportunities.
